Dr Shehnarz Salindera – General Surgeon

We would like to introduce Baringa's new General Surgeon, Dr Shehnarz Salindera.

Dr Salindera was born and raised in Coffs Harbour and is happy to be returning home. She has a longstanding interest in both rural General surgery and Breast & Oncoplastic surgery, and believes in the need to deliver holistic and sustainable surgical care to patients in their home communities. She plans to deliver such quality care to the Coffs Harbour region.

Qualifications:

MBBS MHL BSC FRACS

Profile:

Before undertaking her medical degree she completed a Bachelor of Science and also a Masters in Health Law at the University of Sydney. She holds an Associate Conjoint Lecturer role with UNSW and will continue to teach and mentor medical students locally. Outside of her clinical work she completed the Value-Based Healthcare Program at Harvard Business School and is also currently completing her Masters in Surgery at Oxford University, UK.

Her research interests include breast cancer and Patient Focused Outcomes Measurement. Other interests include advocacy and quality improvement, holding multiple roles within the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons including the Rural Surgery committee and Women in Surgery.

She will be commencing outpatient services with Southern Cross Medical Specialists, accepting both General Surgery and Breast surgery specific consultations.
